

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE	1
GENERAL INTRODUCTION	3
I. Nicholas of Cusa [1401-1464].....	3
II. Ineffability	8
II.1. Modern Research on ‘Ineffability’	9
II.2. Research on Cusanus’ Concept of Ineffability	10
III. The Methodology of the Dissertation.....	12
III.1. The Method of our Research	12
III.2. The Range of our Analysis	12
III.3. Division of the Dissertation.....	12
III.4. The Mode of Quoting Cusanus’ Texts	14
 PART I
INEFFABILIS: SEMANTICS, LEXICON, REGIONS OF KNOWLEDGE, LANGUAGE, AND CONJECTURES	16
 CHAPTER 1
THE SEMANTICS OF INEFFABILIS	17
Introduction	17
1.1. The Etymological Meaning of ineffabilis	17
1.2. The Lexical Meaning of ineffabilis	18
1.3. The 15 th Century Meaning of ineffabilis	19
1.4. The Definition of ineffabilis from Cusanus’ Writings.....	21
1.4.1. The Definition of «Definition» [diffinitio]	21
1.4.2. The Definition of the Verb effor	21
1.4.3. The Definition of the Verb loquor	22
1.4.4. The Definition of Effability and Ineffability	23
Conclusion.....	24
 CHAPTER 2
AN INEFFABILIS-LEXICON FROM CUSANUS	27
Introduction	27
2.1. The Frequency of Ineffabilis in Cusanus’ Writings	28
2.2. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De docta ignorantia	30
2.3. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De coniecturis	35
2.4. Ineffabilis in the Dialogue De deo abscondito	38
2.5. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De quaerendo deum	40
2.6. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De filiatione dei	40
2.7. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De dato patris luminum	45
2.8. Ineffabilis in the Dialogue De genesi	46
2.9. Ineffabilis in the Treatise Apologia doctae ignorantiae	48
2.10. Ineffabilis in the Dialogue Idiota de sapientia	48
2.11. Ineffabilis in the Dialogue Idiota de mente	50
2.12. Ineffabilis in the Dialogue De pace fidei	52

2.13. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De visione dei	54
2.14. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De theologicis complementis	54
2.15. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De principio	56
2.16. Ineffabilis in the Dialogue De possest	58
2.17. Ineffabilis in the Treatise Cribratio Alkorani	62
2.18. Ineffabilis in the Dialogue De non-aliud	64
2.19. Ineffabilis in the Treatise De venatione sapientiae	66
2.20. Implicit Use of Ineffabilis in Cusanus' Writings.....	68
Conclusion.....	70

CHAPTER 3

INEFFABILIS AND THE REGIONS OF KNOWLEDGE	73
Introduction	73
3.1. Cusanus' Definition of Knowledge [scientia]	73
3.2. The Impossibility of Precise Knowledge	76
3.3. The Possibility of Conjectural Knowledge	79
3.4. The Gnoseological Regions	80
3.4.1. The Region of the Senses [sensus]	83
3.4.1.1. The Sensory Method: Perception	83
3.4.1.2. The Possibilities and Limits of the Senses: Contracted Knowledge	84
3.4.2. The Region of Reason [ratio]	85
3.4.2.1. The Rational Method: «The Law of Non-Contradiction»	86
3.4.2.2. The Possibilities and Limits of Reason: Scientific Knowledge	88
3.4.3. The Region of the Intellect.....	89
3.4.3.1. The Intellectual Method: Coincidentia oppositorum	90
3.4.3.2. The Possibilities and Limits of the Intellect: Docta ignorantia	92
3.4.4. The Divine Region	94
3.4.4.1. The Divine Methods: 'The Way of Removal'	96
3.4.4.2. The Possibilities and Limits of the Divine Region: Theósis	99
Conclusion.....	102

CHAPTER 4

INEFFABILIS AND THE REGIONS OF LANGUAGE.....	105
Introduction	105
4.1. The Pseudo-Dionysian Legacy	106
4.2. One Truth and Various Modes of Expressing	110
4.3. The Sensory Region of Language	113
4.4. The Rational Region of Language	114
4.4.1. The Dubitative Mode of Speaking	115
4.4.2. The Circular Mode of Speaking.....	116
4.4.3. The Affirmative Mode of Speaking.....	118
4.4.4. The Negative Mode of Speaking	121

4.4.5. The Eminent Mode of Speaking	124
4.5. The Intellectual Region of Language	127
4.5.1. The Paradoxical Mode of Speaking	128
4.6. The Divine Region of Language	130
4.6.1. The Copulative Mode of Speaking.....	130
4.6.2. The Silent Mode of «Speaking»	132
Conclusion.....	134

CHAPTER 5

INEFFABILIS AND THE CONJECTURAL REGIONS.....	137
Introduction	137
5.1. The Ontological Regions.....	138
5.1.1. Fourfold Progression of Oneness	139
5.1.1.1. The First Oneness	140
5.1.1.2. The Second Oneness	141
5.1.1.3. The Third Oneness	141
5.1.1.4. The Fourth Oneness	142
5.1.2. The Stages-of-Return of Onenesses.....	142
5.2. The Cosmological Regions	144
5.2.1. The Three Worlds or Heavens	146
5.2.2. The Circle of the Universe [Figure U].....	147
5.3. The Anthropological Regions	149
5.3.1. Man, an Image of God [imago dei]	149
5.3.2. Man, a Microcosm	151
5.3.3. Man, a Second God or Human God.....	151
5.3.4. The Agreement and Difference between Individuals	151
5.3.4.1. The Regions of Human Species	153
5.3.4.2. Geographical Differences	154
5.3.4.3. Physical and Moral Differences.....	155
5.4. The Regions of Religion	155
5.5. The Region of the Living / Life	156
Conclusion.....	159

PART II

EXPRESSING INEFFABILIS THROUGH SIGNS, WORDS, NAMES, AND PRAISES	160
---	-----

CHAPTER 6

EXPRESSING INEFFABILIS THROUGH 'SIGNS'	161
Introduction	161
6.1. Cusanus' Notion of 'Sign'	161
6.2. Kinds of Signs.....	162
6.2.1. Verbal Signs	164
6.2.1.1. The Stages of a Verbal Sign.....	164
6.2.1.2. The Goal of a Verbal Sign.....	166
6.2.2. Non-Verbal Signs.....	168
6.3. Signs, Senses, and Imagination.....	170

6.4. The Sign and the Signified.....	171
6.5. Knowledge and Signs.....	172
6.6. Ineffabilis and the Signs.....	174
Conclusion.....	177

CHAPTER 7

EXPRESSING INEFFABILIS THROUGH 'WORDS'	179
Introduction	179
7.1. The Definition of 'Word' [vocabulum , verbum , and lógos].....	180
7.2. The Meaning of a Word [vis vocabuli]	182
7.3. The Quiddity of a Word [quidditas verbi]	183
7.4. Parameters to Apprehend the Quiddity of Words	184
7.4.1. Elevating the Intellect Above the Import of the Words	185
7.4.2. Always be Alert to the Deceitfulness of Words	185
7.4.3. Use Words as Precisely as Possible	186
7.4.4. Interpret the Words According to the Writer's Thought	186
7.5. Ineffabilis and the Human Word [vocabulum / verbum]	187
7.5.1. Sensible / Vocal Word [verbum sensibile/vocale]	187
7.5.2. Rational Word [verbum rationale]	188
7.5.3. Intellectual Word [verbum mentale].....	189
7.6. Ineffabilis and the Divine Word [lógos/verbum].....	190
7.6.1. Lógos as Rational Principle	191
7.6.2. Lógos as Christ	192
7.6.3. Lógos as Wisdom	194
7.6.4. Lógos , Philosophy, Christology, and Theology	195
7.7. Ineffabilis and the Divine-Human Words	197
[lógos/verbum-vocabulum]	197
7.7.1. The Words of Christ	197
7.7.2. The Words of the Gospel	199
7.7.3. The Words of Moses.....	201
7.7.4. The Words of Muhammad	203
7.8. Ineffabilis and the Superhumanly Infused Words	206
Conclusion.....	208

CHAPTER 8

THE IMPOSSIBILITY AND THE NECESSITY OF NAMING	211
Introduction	211
8.1. Theory of Adam's Language.....	211
8.1.1. Adam, the First Human Being	212
8.1.2. Adam, the Father of Names	213
8.1.3. Adam, Father of the Art of Speaking.....	214
8.1.4. The First Parents and the Art of Writing.....	215
8.2. Cusanus' Theory of Naming	216

8.2.1. Name and Form [nomen et forma]	217
8.2.1.1. Types of Forms	218
8.2.1.1.1. Absolute Form [forma absoluta]	218
8.2.1.1.2. Essential Form [forma essentialis]	218
8.2.1.1.3. Final/Defining Form [ultima forma]	219
8.2.1.1.4. Inferior Forms [formae inferiores]	219
8.2.1.2. Examples for Name-Form Relation	220
8.2.1.3. Theoretical Sciences and Form	221
8.2.2. Was Cusanus a Nominalist or a Realist?	222
8.2.3. Name and Reason [nomen et ratio]	224
8.2.4. Three Levels of Names	225
8.2.4.1. The Precise Name [nomen praeicisum]	225
8.2.4.2. The Natural Name [nomen naturale]	226
8.2.4.3. The Arbitrary/Imposed Name [nomen per arbitrium]	227
8.2.5. The Impossibility of Naming God Precisely	227
8.2.6. The Impossibility of Naming Anything Precisely	229
8.2.7. The Necessity of Naming	230
Conclusion	233

CHAPTER 9

EXPRESSING INEFFABILIS THROUGH 'NAMES'	235
Introduction	235
9.1. One Truth and Many Names	235
9.2. The Analysis of Traditional Names	237
9.2.1. The Analysis of the Greek Name THEÓS	238
9.2.2. The Analysis of the Hebrew Name YHWH	241
9.2.3. The Analysis of the Metaphysical Name UNUM	244
9.2.4. The Analysis of the Christian Name TRINITAS	249
9.2.4.1. «One» and «Three»	250
9.2.4.2. Oneness, Equality, and Union	251
9.2.4.3. Oneness, Itness, and Sameness	252
9.2.4.4. Father, Son, and Holy Spirit	252
9.2.4.5. The Loving Love, the Lovable Love, and the Union	253
9.2.4.6. Not-Other, Not-other, and Not-Other	254
9.2.4.7. The Inadequacy of Trinitarian Terms	254
9.3. Cusanus' Neologisms	256
9.3.1. The Name IDEM [SAME]	257
9.3.2. The Name POSSEST [ACTUALIZED-POSSIBILITY]	259
9.3.2.1. Possibility and Actuality	262
9.3.2.2. POSSEST , «a sufficiently approximate name for God»	263
9.3.3. The Name NON-ALIUD [NOT-OTHER]	264
9.3.3.1. Definition of NOT-OTHER	265
9.3.3.2. « NOT-OTHER » as Name of God	266

9.3.3.3. The Inadequacy of the Name «NOT-OTHER»	268
9.3.4. The Name POSSE IPSUM	269
Conclusion.....	273

CHAPTER 10

EXPRESSING INEFFABILIS THROUGH 'PRAISES'	275
Introduction	275
10.1. The Divine Attributes.....	276
10.1.1. The Divine Attributes in « Theologia circularis »	276
10.1.2. An Ontological Circularity?	279
10.1.3. The Decalogue of Attributes	281
10.2. The Divine Attributes as « Scientia laudis »	283
10.2.1. The Origin of the Idea of Praise.....	284
10.2.2. The Ontological Significance: « Omnia igitur suo esse laudant Deum »	287
10.2.3. The Theological Significance: Deus, «absoluta laus ipsa»	289
10.2.4. The Anthropological Significance: « Homo vivum psalterium »	290
10.2.5. Religious Significance: « Laus » as « Adoratio ».....	292
10.2.6. The Ethical Significance: « Laudabilia et vituperabilia »	293
10.2.6.1. Free Will [liberum arbitrium]	295
10.2.6.2. Obstacles in the Way of Praise	295
10.2.6.3. The Axioms for a « Vita laudis »	296
10.2.6.4. Effects of « Vita laudis ».....	297
Conclusion.....	298

A LOOK BACK AND A LOOK AHEAD	300
------------------------------------	-----

11. A LOOK BACK

11.1. Synopsis of Ineffabilis in the Thought of Nicholas of Cusa	301
11.1.1. Part One	301
11.1.2. Part Two	308

12. A LOOK AHEAD

12.1. Unity in Diversity	315
12.1.1. The Physical Plurality and the Metaphysical Unity	316
12.1.2. The Epistemological Diversities and the Mystical Unity	316
12.1.3. The Linguistic Diversities and the Oneness of Languages.....	317
12.2. Dialogue for 'Unity in Diversity'	317
12.2.1. Cusanus' Vision/Proposal for Unity: Una religio in rituum varietate	318
12.2.2. Our Proposal for Inter-religious/ cultural Dialogue.....	323

12.2.2.1. The Sensory Region of Dialogue	325
12.2.2.2. The Rational Region of Dialogue	325
12.2.2.3. The Intellectual Region of Dialogue	326
12.2.2.4. The Divine Region of Dialogue	326
EPILOGUE	328
BIBLIOGRAPHY	329
I. PRIMARY SOURCES.....	329
II. SECONDARY LITERATURE	337
ABBREVIATIONS	352
INDEX OF NAMES	354